This mixed media workshop uses combinations of watermedia, collage materials and other products together to create innovative and dynamic paintings. Painting and drawing will be combined to create more diversity in your work. Students will learn to make their own collage paper using several different methods. One day of the workshop will be using a live model to work from. Betsy has an emphasis on traditional wisdom applied in a thoroughly modern way.

Betsy Dillard Stroud has had several books published of her work and techniques, most recently "The Artists Muse: Unlock the Door to Your Creativity". She is one of the most prolific writers, painters, and jurors in the country and the winner of many awards in diverse media. She has had 22 one-woman exhibitions of her work and is a respected workshop teacher since 1987. She served as Associate Editor of North America for International Artist Magazine (1998-2001) and is a frequent contributor to many art magazines including International Artist Magazine, American Artist magazine, Southwest Art magazine, Watercolor, and Watercolor Magic.
