Jan Sitts is an internationally known painter, instructor and author whose unique work has been embraced by art lovers for the last thirty years. She was formally trained at the Kansas City art Institute and received her B.A. in Fine Art from Western State College in Gunnison, Colorado. Jan has worked in the commercial arts, movie animation, as a gallery director and in various other positions in the arts. She is currently represented in five contemporary art galleries and has recently published her first book, TEXTURECOLORFEELING.

currently represented in five contemporary art galleries and has recently published her first book, TEXTURECOLORFEELING.

Your sensibilities will take you on a whirlwind adventure as you discover materials, textures and surfaces that you have never thought possible. The process of layering with non-traditional art material, various papers, acrylic paints and ink will move you into unfamiliar territory that improves your expressiveness and the uniqueness of your painting. www.jansitts.com
